

PATRICK MILLER
Research Associate Professor
NH Institute for Health Policy & Practice

Patrick Miller, MPH joined the Institute in September 2006, and serves as a Research Associate Professor at the New Hampshire Institute for Health Policy and Practice. He is currently working on information technology projects for the NH Citizens Health Initiative, supporting health policy initiatives for the NH Department of Health and Human Services, and is teaching in the Masters of Public Health program. Patrick has spent the past fifteen years working in the fields of health care finance, operations, technology, and policy.

Mr. Miller was most recently the Executive Director of The Jordan Institute where he was responsible for program development and operational oversight. Patrick started his own consulting company in 1999, and previously has held positions as Chief Information Officer and co-founder for Choicelinx Corporation, as well as senior management positions with Healthsource/CIGNA.

Patrick has a Masters of Public Health with a focus on Ecology from the University of New Hampshire. He currently serves on the board of the Chocorua Lake Conservation Foundation and as a steering committee member of the NH Carbon Challenge program. Patrick also volunteers as a speaker for The Climate Project and the Carbon Coalition. He is a past member of the NH Public Health Association, the United Way of Merrimack County, and the Chocorua Lake Association. He and his family live in an active and passive solar home in Campton, NH.